

Photograph

A Cold Winter Day

Erin E Perrin, RN¹

Abstract

Description

I am a post-anesthesia care unit nurse who works in a busy ambulatory surgery center, and I consider myself a closet photographer. I love taking photographs of nature. It helps me relax and focus after a busy day. This photograph was taken on my way home on a very cold and snowy day. I found the trees stunning with their white snowy branches contrasting the black asphalt road. Such a peaceful view of nature.

Keywords

medicine in the arts; photography; nature; snow; trees

Conflicts of Interest

The author declares no conflicts of interest.

The author is an employee of the Clear Creek Surgery Center, a hospital affiliated with the journal's publisher.

This research was supported (in whole or in part) by HCA Healthcare and/or an HCA Healthcare-affiliated entity. The views expressed in this publication represent those of the author(s) and do not necessarily represent the official views of HCA Healthcare or any of its affiliated entities.

Author Affiliation

1. Clear Creek Surgery Center, Wheat Ridge, CO

Author affiliations are listed at the end of this article.

Correspondence to:

Erin E Perrin, RN
(erin.perrin@hcahealthcare.com)

