

Photograph

Dawn's Light—A New Day

Wendy A McEuen, RN¹

Abstract

Description

In the world of trauma care, there is often darkness and despair. Sometimes we need to find the light around us to restore our positive balance. Photographs such as this capture the beauty of light and recharge my soul thus renewing my ability to provide compassion and empathy to our patients and families.

Keywords

medicine in the arts; photography; photograph; trauma; light; door

Conflicts of Interest

The author declares no conflicts of interest.

The author is an employee of the Riverside Community Hospital, a hospital affiliated with the journal's publisher.

This research was supported (in whole or in part) by HCA Healthcare and/or an HCA Healthcare-affiliated entity. The views expressed in this publication represent those of the author(s) and do not necessarily represent the official views of HCA Healthcare or any of its affiliated entities.

Author Affiliation

1. Riverside Community Hospital, Riverside, CA

Author affiliations are listed at the end of this article.

Correspondence to:
Wendy A McEuen, RN
(wendy.mceuen@hcahealthcare.com)

